TAYLOR MADE SPOILER™ BUILT FOR THE LONG HAUL

GLOVERSVILLE, N.Y. – July 23, 2013– The Spoiler’s™ success is due to its more rounded shape producing more buoyancy and lower drag compared to competitors. The Spoiler’s™ ribbed pattern keeps drag to an absolute minimum while the unique design creates the turbulence necessary to lift the buoy from the water’s surface

“Our Spoiler™ not only has up to 38% more buoyancy than our competitor’s but it’s also economically priced,” says David Karpinski, vice president of sales and marketing for Taylor Made Products. “Combine that with our nine non-fading colors and you can see why our customers are very satisfied with our product.”

The rope hole allows for a line 1-1/16” & 1-1/2” in diameter and the curved design at the head of the buoy prevents the rope chafing. Our patented TRIValve is designed for quick inflation without having to remove it entirely. The Spoiler™ is available in three different sizes: 33”, 44”, and 50” and nine vibrant colors.
